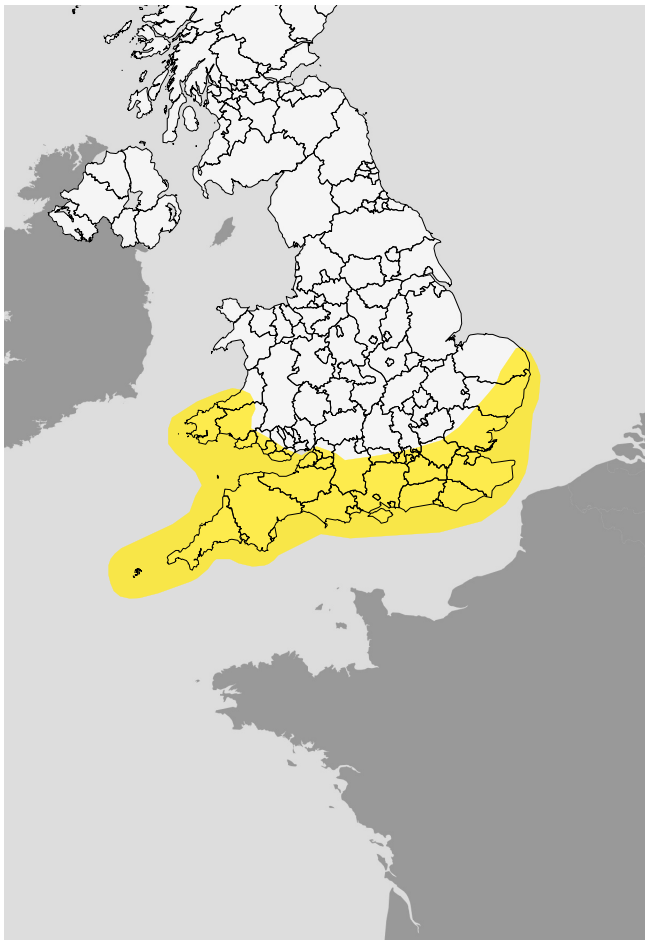
Yellow warning
Wind

Between
21:00 Wed 1 Nov 2023 and
17:00 Thu 2 Nov 2023



Strong and potentially disruptive winds associated with Storm Ciarán are possible until late afternoon.

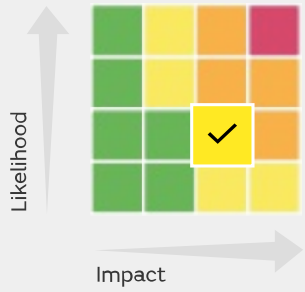
What to expect

- Injuries from flying debris are possible
- Some damage to buildings, such as tiles blown from roofs, could happen
- Road, rail, air and ferry services may be affected, with longer journey times and cancellations possible
- Some roads and bridges may close
- Power cuts may occur, with the potential to affect other services, such as mobile phone coverage
- Injuries and danger to life could occur from large waves and beach material being thrown onto sea fronts, coastal roads and properties

Further details

Storm Ciarán is likely to bring a spell of strong winds to southern parts of the UK.

Winds are likely to gust to around 50mph in places inland, but perhaps 60 to 65 mph in a few exposed locations, mainly coasts and hills. Very large waves could bring additional impacts to coastal areas. Winds will gradually ease from the west later in the afternoon and through the evening.



Low likelihood of medium impacts
